

Abstract

A software product for monitoring the performance of an e-commerce business by reading log files from a plurality of tiers, making queries to a database, and interacting with an e-commerce infrastructure. Resulting information is presented as measurements varying over time, where the measurements are business and financial measures.

10003507